

John Ostic

John Ostic is a Propulsion Engineer for the Boeing Company with 30 years of experience in powerplant fire safety and certification. He was previously an FAA Designated Engineering Representative (DER) and is currently an Engineering Unit Member (E-UM) for the Boeing Co, as well as an Associate Technical Fellow. He has a B.S.M.E. from the University of Idaho.