

Takuya Mori, Evaluation Engineer, Seat Evaluation & Engineering Division, Toyota Boshoku Corporation

Mr. Mori is primarily responsible for structural evaluations in development activities for aircraft seating system. He joined Toyota Boshoku in 2011, has been working as an evaluation engineer for his entire career. He conducts researches that involve with both computational analysis using FEM and physical testing through advanced development of new products. Mr. Mori holds Bachelor of Science in mechanical engineering from Meijo University in Japan.